

Martin SALZWEDEL

Address: CCI-Beratung
Dreisamstr. 25
D-79232 March/ Breisgau

Ph: +49 (0) 7665 93 42 800
Mobile: +49 (0) 170 634 77 58
E-mail: info@martinsalzwedel.de

Internet: www.cci-beratung.de

Business Area: Communication skills in leadership, negotiations, public relations, marketing and sales, high-performance team development, intercultural competence, personal/ professional development

Motto: Alive fish swim against the current

Short CV: Martin Salzwedel is a consultant, trainer, and executive coach working with companies across the globe. His specialties include: communication skills, leadership, negotiations, public relations, marketing and sales, distribution. As the founder of Communications Consulting International (CCI-Beratung), the director of the institute for personality development for the Boston Business School, and as a senior consultant for the St. Gallen Business School, Martin works with international leaders on executive development and provides consultation services for organization development efforts throughout Europe, the United States, Canada, South America, and Asia. In addition, Martin uses his expertise as an Enneagram teacher and his background as a concert-level cellist to unearth the full potential in the clients he serves.